

Welcome to the June Edition of Startup India Updates!

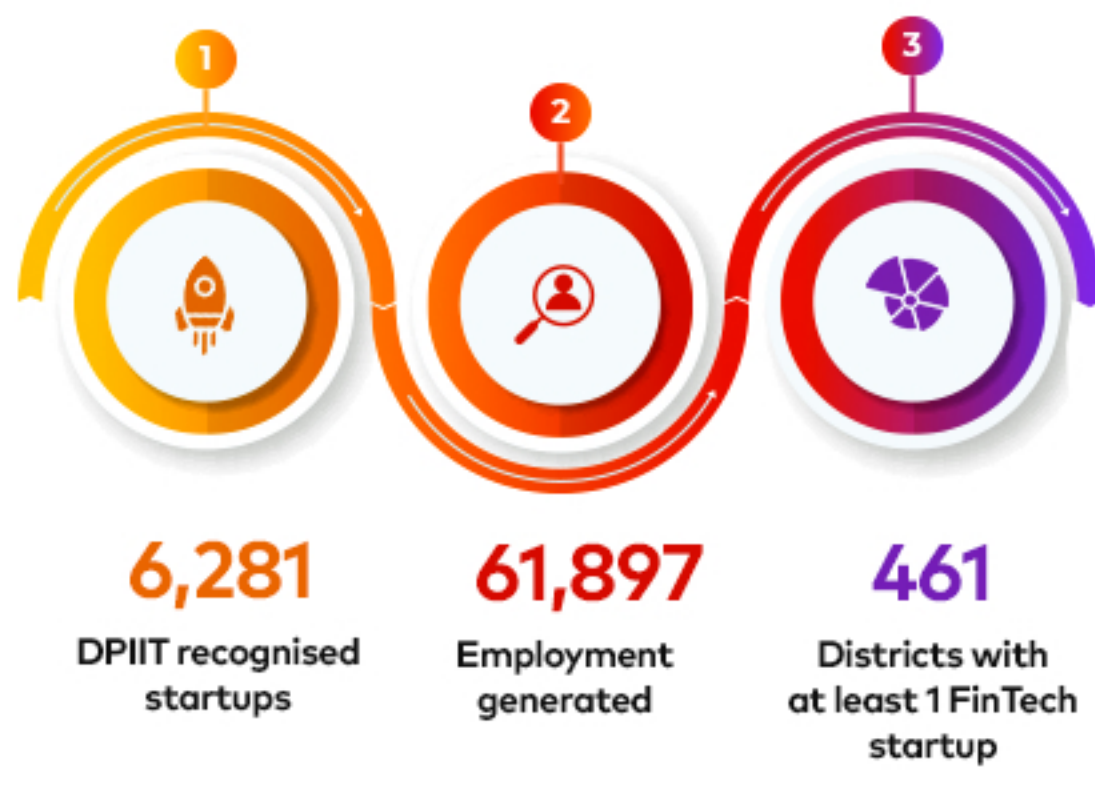

From Nalanda University, the oldest university in the world, to being the second largest e-learning market, India holds an important position in the global education industry. Furthermore, India has the world's largest network of higher education institutions. The education sector in India is majorly driven by 4 Es, which include EdTech, edu-content, e-learning and entrepreneurship.

Stay tuned till the end to learn more about the Education and Skill Development sector.

Let's Talk Growth!

Category: Education and Skill Development

Source: Startup India
Data as of 15th June 2023

STARTUP TRIVIA

Which option is TRUE about the National Education Policy 2023?

- (a) The new National Education Policy 2023 is based on four pillars, which include accessibility, equity, quality and accountability.
- (b) The NEP 2023 focuses on school education reform and not higher education reform.
- (c) NEP aims at the compulsory study of multiple languages in school education.

Stay tuned till the end to know the answer!

Evolution Begins Here!

Category: Education and Skill Development

Trestle Labs Private Limited

Trestle Labs is a startup that empowers the blind and visually impaired community towards inclusive education and employment. The startup provides an end-to-end solution to access any content through audio through its product 'Kibo' to its users.

Testbook Edu Solutions Private Limited

Testbook Edu Solutions is an app and web based platform to support job seekers who want to get employed with government or private organisations.

Makerinme Technologies Private Limited

The startup provides complete STEM (Science+Technology+Engineering+Math) solution and makes learning easy for anyone through its product.

Trascender Services Private Limited

The startup through its product aims at bringing transformation in education and healthcare industry in India. The company provides different courses which includes foundational and stream specific curriculum certificate courses.

STARTUP TRIVIA ANSWER!

Option A is correct!

If you also have an innovative, impactful and scalable idea in the education sector, then Startup India is your platform. Get your startup DPIIT recognised and avail of various benefits.

Startup Shots

Centre's skills training to include AI course

India and Singapore collaborate on establishing knowledge and skill development as a fundamental aspect of their strategic partnership

Airtel to provide cloud, content delivery services for government EdTech platform DIKSHA

G20 Startup20 Goa Sankalpana

The Startup20 Goa Sankalpana, held on June 3rd & 4th at the Grand Hyatt in Goa, brought together a diverse group of experts, task force members, startups, government officials, & stakeholders. The objective of the meeting was to address challenges & finalise recommendations for the Startup20 policy communique.

The meeting comprised plenary sessions & a startup showcase, providing a platform for presenting the best innovations from India. More than 250 delegates, including representatives from 15 countries, participated in the event, contributing to the diverse & international nature of the gathering.

Overall, the Startup20 Goa Sankalpana marked a significant step forward in shaping the Startup20 policy communiqué, emphasising collaboration & innovation in the startup ecosystem.

The Startup20 Shikhar meeting will be held in Gurugram on the 3rd & 4th of July, 2023.

Blog in the Spotlight

EdTech Startups: Learning and Building in the New Age

